

Birthplace Of
SIR FREDERICK BANTING

Frederick Grant Banting,
discoverer of insulin, was born
Nov. 14, 1891, on the original Banting
homestead immediately behind this cairn.

In this quiet rural environment he gained a deep understanding of the ways of nature. From his parents he learned industriousness, resourcefulness, persistence, sincerity and true godliness.

Always fond of dogs during his boy-hood, Dr. Banting was later to experiment with these animals in the discovery of insulin. Life and hope resulted for diabetics around the world.

Died Feb. 21, 1941, in Newfoundland.

Erected with the assistance of Luna Township.
